FRIDAY, APRIL 27.

THE question, which the Supreme Court will have to consider in the Kentucky contest case, is jurisdiction. If the court declares that it has jurisdiction the case will end immediately, for the Goebels will never permit their deeds of infamy unarrested. It would shock the civilized world. The deeds of the ancients are lustuous, compared to those of the present Democratic dynasty at Frankfort. Should the court decide that it has no jurisdiction we should like very much for some one to clearly set forth what its purpose is, anyway.

THE Republicans will bear in mind that May 5 is the day for precinct conventions at the various precincts in the county and the object of this is of so great importance that every Republican in the county should attend. The county convention meets on the following Monday at the court house in Hartford. At this time the Republican county committee will be re-organized, a new chairman and secretary elected, delegates elected to attend the Fourth Congressional District convention, which meets at Elizabethtown, May 16, also delegates to attend the State convention, which meets at Louisville, May 17, and other important business will be transacted, so let every Republican come and participate in this convention, which is to be a most enthusiastic one. Come, bring your neighbors and friends.

THAT assumed editor of the Herald, from all accounts, is giving its real editor a great deal more mental anguish just now than his past work profited. THE REPUBLICAN is in no wise responsible for the acts of either of these gentlemen; it has frequently demanded that the assumed editor come out and fight in the open, but he has refused, and from all accounts, would really prefer to prove he was not in it. Its editor now accuses us with having charged him with gambling. We plead not guilty to this charge, from the fact that our contemporary offered publicly to wager us in the sum of $50 and it stands to-day a sample of his own handiwork. It is, therefore, no charge of ours, but a sentence, for the execution of his own head, written by his own hand. He mournfully asks why did we not accept it. The public has our reason, and it can not be misunderstood. Of course, beyond all doubt, could procure the affidavit from his assistant that he had not written a line. No one doubts this, but what would it amount to? Having stood so faithful to him in times of threatened annihilation, the assumed editor would certainly not desert at this critical moment. We would suggest that the real editor read Emerson's essay on self-reliance and see what a splendid lesson there is in it for him. Stipululleson in mora, he can present an affidavit at any time from his assistant, without waiting for us to identify him, because he is quite familiar with him and knows just how much work he has done.

The Controversy May End.

The Herald of Wednesday boldly declares that the controversy has ended upon its part, and that it must drop THE REPUBLICAN as unworthy of further consideration. This is, in fact, all the Herald men can do, having brought about a public controversy themselves with us and having been worsted on every proposition, it is but natural for its editor, or assumed editor, to declare the controversy off, that THE REPUBLICAN is unworthy notice. This is perfectly natural for them, being their accustomed manner of acknowledging a genuine thrashing. A burnt child always dreads the fire, likewise the vanquished views with abhorrence his conqueror. It is a well known fact that the Herald has had its way so long, that it finds in him who contradicts it, all the qualities and characteristics of a monster. The Herald has, at least, found a match in THE REPUBLICAN, and, like a school boy that has had a severe flogging by his classmate, finds solace in giving vent to his little feelings in epithets and abuse of his compeer. This controversy was properly opened when the Herald put its "timely" questions to us and we are averse to believing that the public is tired of this until it has been thoroughly aired. Notwithstanding the fact that we answered the questions propounded to us in the plainest language we had at command and in the simplest manner possible, the Herald's editor referred to those answers in this language:

"THE HARTFORD REPUBLICAN, in an idiotic fashion of its own, proceeds to answer the questions propounded it last week by the Herald."

In attempting to mislead the public, the Herald of this week, refers to our dressing down we gave its editor, in our last issue for kneeling at the altar and offering a public wager with us, and declares that it is such uncalculated attacks as this that lead it to refer to our answers in the manner above quoted, the editor, or the assumed editor, knows that this church affair had nothing to do with his referring to us in the above style, and when he makes statement to the contrary he perjures himself. It is nothing but that burning envy and green-eyed jealousy lurking in his bosom that called forth such language, for out of the fullness of heart the mouth speaketh. THE REPUBLICAN has never questioned the religious standing of any man, and the charge of our contemporary that we have attacked his private and religious character is unfounded and he knows every word of it to be miserably false. It is only to call the attention of the public from the real question under dispute. We merely expressed our surprise at a gentleman so consecrated to the worship of his Master and at the same time classifying himself with gamblers. But he shall not dodge the issue, on such a silly, unfounded and ungentlemanly attempt. The Herald asked us three questions, we answered them; we asked the Herald, in turn, eight questions and it didn't answer them, but asked for proof that Goebel made use of certain expressions. Two of these assertions were made in Louisville and one at McHenry. The McHenry assertion was proven by such men as Drs. J. S. Smith and H. B. Innes, Messrs. E. L. Myers, Peter Lauder and J. W. Field. The evidence of these gentlemen would stand in any court in the land, but it would not suffice for the little Herald, so it procured two affidavits, one virtually concurring with Dr. Smith, et al, and the other one was a flat contradiction of Dr. Smith's affidavit. The question now becomes one of veracity between Messrs. J. S. Smith, H. B. Innes, E. L. Myers, J. W. Field and Peter Lauder, on the one side, and Messrs. Rowan Holbrook, Shelby Taylor, Jas. F. Carson and W. H. Barnes on the other. We gave a brief sketch of Dr. Smith, et al, in our last issue. They are not politicians, but physicians, business men and laborers. These other gentlemen are all professional politicians. We do not desire to say who is mistaken, those gentlemen will vindicate themselves. We did what our contemporary demanded and here we close.

"THE REPUBLICAN has not come up with the proof," says the Herald, "but, nevertheless, for its edification we will answer very emphatically the questions it desires."

These are the questions:
"You can't count me and you can't count me out."--Goebel.
"I have the election right there extending a slightly elongated neck where I had the convention."--Goebel.
"The other fellows (the Republicans) may do the voting, but we Democrats will do the counting."--Goebel.

Q 1. DO THEY APPROVE GOEBEL'S STATEMENTS, ABOVE QUOTED?

"The Democratic ticket just nominated is sure to be elected. Under the operation of the Goebel election law the result is not left to chance."--Watterson to Belmont.

Q 2. DO THEY SANCTION WATTEYER'S STATEMENT TO BELMONT, ABOVE QUOTED?

"I am ready to let my son's salvation against a counterfeit nickel that if there is any stealing done in this election the Republicans will not do it."--Blackburn.

"Gov. W. S. Taylor will have to receive a greater majority than 15,000 to be Kentucky's next Governor."--Woodson.

Q 3. DO THEY ENDORSE THE STATEMENTS OF BLACKBURN AND WOODSON, ABOVE QUOTED?

Q 4. DO THEY APPROVE OF SCOTT'S ATTEMPT TO BRIBE THE BROTHER-IN-LAW AND FATHER-IN-LAW OF YOUTSEY?

Q 5. DO THEY BELIEVE THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET WAS ELECTED BY THE POPULAR VOTE OF THE PEOPLE?

Q 6. DO THEY APPROVE THE ACTIONS OF THE STATE BOARD--POYNTON, YONTS AND FULTON--IN THROWING OUT THE COUNTIES OF JEFFERSON, MARTIN, JOHNSON AND MAGOFFIN IN THE STATE OFFICES AND VET ALLOW THE REPRESENTATIVES FROM THOSE DISFRANCHISED COUNTIES ACT IN THE CAPACITY OF LEGISLATORS?

Q 7. DO THEY NOW ENDORSE THE GOEBEL ELECTION LAW?

"The white, property-owning, respectable people of Kentucky are going to control the government of this Commonwealth now and hereafter, and they are going to legislate some respect for law and public decency into the heads of 2,500 arrogant moneybags and their satellites and hangers-on who have chosen to affiliate politically with 75,000 ignorant negroes and as many more vicious and red-handed mountaineers. The struggle for supremacy is about over and the end will prove in this State, as it has in other States, that only the people who are capable of good government will be permitted to govern."--Woodson.

Q 8. DO THEY SANCTION THE ABOVE STATEMENT FROM WOODSON?

And this the answer:
THE REPUBLICAN has not come up with the proof demanded, but nevertheless, for its edification we will answer very emphatically the questions it desires. The gist of these questions is, does the Herald "endorse" does it "sanction," does it "approve" of certain alleged utterances and actions of well known Democrats. The Herald has never felt that it is its duty to endorse all the personal views, utterances and actions of every Democrat in the State, whether of great or little renown; although perhaps the conditions amply justified them. We have never stood ready to approve of everything that has been said and done in the name of Democracy. True Democracy does not consist in any such wholesale endorsement. Summing up all these "endorsements," "approvals," etc., into one, we will say that we do not sanction any of the propositions and alleged actions quoted except the Goebel election law. We are emphatically for this law until a better one is devised. As to whether we believe that the Democratic ticket was elected by the popular vote of the people, we will say that it certainly was, after eliminating the fraudulent and intimidated vote, which gave the Republicans a majority on the face of the returns.

This answer is a general one, as our readers will readily discover. It will perhaps show up better after having been analyzed, the general "answer" is, "we do not sanction any of the propositions and alleged actions quoted, except the Goebel election law." The Herald is "sincere," we hope, in its declaration, so we need not harass it longer. But let's see what it does not approve. It does not approve Goebel's statements; it does not approve Watterson's "let out" to Belmont; it certainly does not endorse the statements of Woodson and Blackburn; it refuses to countenance Scott's attempted bribe; they do not approve the action of the State board in disfranchising Kentucky; they don't take part in Woodson's white, property-owners, etc. Can we believe them candid in their assertion? The editor and the assumed editor of the Herald have been endorsing the whole contest proceedings all the while and reproducing the Courier-Journal in every issue and when they declare that they do not endorse our sixth question, we do not believe them candid. By this declaration they repudiate their course since the election. Do they mean to do this, or were they willing to say any old thing to get these questions from the public's eye? We leave this question with the public, because they are hors de combat. Let's look into answer, Q No. 5. "As to whether we believe that the Democratic ticket was elected by the popular vote of the people, we will say that it certainly was, after eliminating the fraudulent and intimidated vote, which gave the Republicans a majority on the face of the returns." It has been charged by every Goebalized journal in the State and by the contest board itself, that Goebel men were intimidated by the militia; by Federal Judges and by deputy U. S. marshals, but during all that contest, these men absolutely failed to prove that a single ticket "meanly," "timid," "gawky" Goebel crat was kept from casting his vote. Not a single man could be found that was intimidated and kept from voting on any account, and we CHALLENGE the Herald men to successfully contradict it. How, in the name of heaven, could fraudulent and intimidated votes be eliminated, when they could not find a single voter? That contest board never eliminated a vote. It never threw out a single county nor precinct. It failed to find any fraud anywhere, (but knew it was in abundance), but just simply threw overboard the voice of the people and said Bill Goebel was Governor. For what reason? In obedience of the King's demands. Again we ask, where did those eliminated votes come from? It is indeed surprising that good men will believe such rankling charges, when their authors do not attempt to explain them, much less prove them. There was never a lie so brazen and vicious as this wholesale charge of Republican fraud. Blackburn said if any stealing was done that he and the other Goebelites would do it, and they did it remarkably well.

The Herald may be done with this controversy, but if it is, it leaves the battlefield a hopeless victim, a wretched character in the eyes of its own partisans and perhaps it would be best for it, because neither its editor nor assumed editor is longer able to keep its course straight. This week it repudiates the contest board's actions in answer to our sixth question, yet it holds that the Beckhamites were elected. Not by the people and only by that contest board. What's the Herald men going to do about it?

Republicans and the Next Election.

The question, which seems to be agitating the Republicans, Brown Democrats and other lovers of liberty, is whether or not the Republican leaders are prepared to unify the elections in Louisville and other sections where discord and dissensions have entered the party ranks. We believe that the emergency will be met by capable leaders and those factional feelings of the past will be of the past, and the party will present a solid front in the event of another State election. There is not a man in our whole knowledge who voted for Taylor in the last struggle that has ever had cause to regret his vote. He would carry his party's whole strength. Besides the Republican vote, he would poll nine out of ten Brown votes, from the simple fact that the national election will cut no figure in politics in Kentucky. The first thing for the cultured and refined, the business man, and the farm hand, above all else is to secure the liberty of the ballot box; and with this the supreme determination and highest desire of the class of people that opposed Goebel, party prejudice and unpleasant memories will be forgotten. These men, that broke away from party ties on the account of the elevation and exaltation of force and fraud in their party, were the very best men in that party. We speak from observation of those around Hartford and judge that it was the case all over the State. These men with independent spirits and with respect for the right, honor and justice, will never compromise with their party on terms of dishonor. So let the Republican party greet them and give them a hearty welcome into its folds. They will do honor to any party they may choose to link their fortunes with and if the Republican party will do the proper thing, as we believe it will, there is no reason why it should not have this band of political reformers and independents, with these brave sons of Democracy will come the honest sons of the Populist party. They shall every one be thrice welcomed and we hope they shall find a permanent abiding place in the ranks of that party that is to deliver Kentucky from bondage. While we have party ties, and they are very dear, these noble sires had the same, but they have broken them and we should invite them to a seat in the council.

NOT A FUGITIVE

Gov. Taylor is Not Running Away From An Indictment.

W. O. Bradley's Statement--Says if the Governor is Indicted He Will Return.

Frankfort, Ky., April 22.--W. O. Bradley, leading counsel for Republican Governor Taylor, gave to the Associated Press the following authorized interview to-night:

"I have had no communication with Governor Taylor since he went to Washington. The press, I notice, state that he is there preparing his case for the Supreme Court. I am satisfied this is not true. Governor Taylor went to Washington on purely personal business not connected in any way with the trial of his case. 'Nor do I believe the report that he is in New York attempting to prevent the honoring of a requisition for his return to this State. As to whether a requisition could be lawfully issued by Beckham or would be recognized, it is unnecessary for me to express an opinion, as there are questions that must be determined by the authority upon whom such requisition may be made."

"Governor Taylor has publicly declared he was not and would never be a fugitive from justice; that if indicted he would respect the law and meet his accusers face to face. Therefore, there remains but one course open to him and that is to return as soon as he can, walk boldly and bravely into court and meet the indictment like a man. Any other course would be rank injustice, not only to himself, but to those of his friends who have been accused of so foul a crime. I do not know whether an indictment has been found against Governor Taylor, but if it has I have no doubt he will promptly surrender himself into the hands of the law. I believe that any intimation to the contrary does him an injustice."

Ollie James would be an improvement on the ineffable Wheeler as a representative from the First district, but is never to be given a chance to show it. Wheeler made himself solid with the gang by his unscrupulously dirty work in the last campaign and by his defense of the Goebel election law in congress. James did all he could honestly do in the campaign and refused to do more. The gang does not want or need men whose consciences direct their course and limit their actions in politics.--Owensboro Inquirer.

War to the Death.

PESTS OF THE POULTRY YARD MUST GO.

American Lice Destroyer Kills More Mites, Lice and other Vermin in a Day Than All Other Remedies Combined.

The war is on! The days of lice and vermin that have done so much to make the life of the poultry man miserable, and his business unprofitable are over. American Lice Destroyer is the proper ammunition to use. This preparation is wonderful in its power, and vermin cannot exist twenty-four hours after it is applied to the coop or fowls. Every poultry man needs it. It is cheap, reliable and effective, one package being sufficient to protect 250 fowls from mites and lice for one year. When this Destroyer is used, profits at once increase. Lice and vermin do more to kill profits than all other causes combined. You know it. Don't go on losing money every week, but try American Lice Destroyer. You may have tried other things without success, but if this fails you can have your money back. We are in this fight to stay, and will back Destroyer against any number of mites or lice you may have. Don't fool away money with "recipes" or home made makeshifts. Use scientific means. The American Lice Destroyer has been used by thousands of poultrymen; it has been on the market several years and has been tested thousands of times. We know it is all right, and if it doesn't do the work remember you get your money back. What more can you ask? If your druggist don't sell American Lice Destroyer, he's behind the age. In that case send for a $1.00 box at once. Made only by American Mig. Co., Terre Haute, Ind.

The Persecution of Governor Taylor.

For persistent, malignant and unscrupulous persecution, that of Dreyfus does not surpass the persecution of W. S. Taylor, elected Governor by the people of Kentucky last November.

The Goebel conspirators, during the campaign, paid little attention to Gov. Taylor, but turned their mud batteries on Gov. Brown and his followers. But from the hour the polls closed attacks on Gov. Taylor personally began; on the Governor himself, on his family, on his friends and his associates. No lie was too malignant, no lie too mean and contemptible to be published broadcast over the State to poison the minds of the people and to reconcile them to the forcible removal of their elected Governor.

Frankfort became the very center of these falsehoods, and the channel of communication with the public was the Courier-Journal and Times. Mrs. Taylor did not escape these slanders. All sorts of stories were invented, and miserable, pitiful spies set upon her to watch her every movement and invent conversations for her.

Wherever Mr. Taylor has gone these children of Satan--who is the father of lies--have followed him. To his home when he went to bury his brother and sister; to Louisville, when he came to confer with his friends; to Washington, where he went with his counsel, these miserable penny liners have gone, and they have sought day by day by their innumerable falsehoods to bring the Governor into contempt.

There has been method in all this business; the purpose has been to "hang Taylor and damn the Republican party." The whole conspiracy turns now on convicting Taylor of conspiring to kill Goebel. That was the purpose of that $100,000 corruption fund; that was the purpose of all the stories of alleged confessions published in the Enquirer and the Courier-Journal in turn.

The Associated Press, too, has been used to compass this end. Two weeks ago the Associated Press sent out from Frankfort a palpably false statement giving what the Associated Press said was the testimony of Senator Alexander before the grand jury. It was fiction pure and simple, but fiction with a purpose. The Commonwealth's Attorney, Franklin, made no protest, and Judge Cantrill did not threaten anyone with punishment for contempt of his court.

But this is not all. Another Frankfort correspondent pretends to state--and with an air that indicates the information came from someone who imagined he knew the secret of the prosecution--pretends to state what the prosecution expects to prove. This writer says:

"The prosecution expects to prove by Senator Alexander, of Louisville, that he was in Gov. Taylor's office when the shot was fired; that Gov. Taylor drew a revolver and ran out of the office."

The prosecution can prove nothing of the kind, for this statement is the one attributed to Senator Alexander two weeks ago by the Associated Press and by Senator Alexander emphatically denied.

It is all a part of the same plot; all a part of the same scheme to run Taylor by any means within reach. We republished yesterday in connection with the alleged indictment of Gov. Taylor the story of Mr. James Andrew Scott's visit to Winchester, and his conference with Mr. Wither spoon and Judge French. We would keep all of these facts in the minds of the people of Kentucky. This persecution of Gov. Taylor will yet react. The people of Kentucky have a passion for fair play; fair play is the last thing accorded Gov. Taylor by his enemies, but the people will yet be aroused, and it's well for all to keep the record straight.

Let two things be kept in mind: First, the testimony on which the prosecution relies to prove by Gov. Taylor's action at the time of the as-

UPHOLDING TAYLOR

Who Has Been Deceived, Scolded at and Insulted by the Beckham Followers--Has the Confidence of the Republican Party.

(M. F. Bennett, in Breckinridge News, Dem.)

How long will Taylor have to endure the tirade of abuse, that is daily being heaped upon him? He has already received his share tenfold from the Beckham contingent.

But the insult that has appeared to every sympathetic soul most forcibly is the way he was treated on the two occasions when he visited his home to attend the burial of his brother and sister. Some gentlemen of high estate and journalists of reputed talent, even Henry Watterson, were heard to say "He has deserted the office." "He has played a prank on the Republicans," etc.

Yes, he left the Capital on a sad mission, but did he stay away? As soon as it was possible he was found at his post again where he will remain. He is a true blue sovereign, whom every State loving Republican should encourage in this his darkest hour. Think for a moment what he has endured while trying to uphold our rights which were manifested at the polls a last November. How many of us would have been buffeted before now by the backhanded lot of Beckham followers, who have at last called to their assistance Tom Campbell, the greatest scoundrel in existence.

I recently heard some Beckham advocates predict that Taylor would submit. I have enough confidence in him to believe that he will submit to nothing but the ruling of the highest tribunal. If that court should decide against him, he will step out as agreed and we will elect him again next fall.

Of course he is a broken man at present, but true friends are better than gold. Every Republican should remember that he has spent his all trying to preserve their rights. Let every Republican continue to battle for liberty and may they soon wipe that damnable machine out of existence and once more enjoy peaceful tranquility in our beloved State.

For all internal and external pains and aches Dr. Bell's Anti Pain is an instant relief. It is the most wonderful pain killer ever discovered. Try it.

Col. Colson Acquitted.

In just eighteen minutes ex-Congressman David G. Colson was acquitted of murder. At 6:30 o'clock Saturday evening a verdict of not guilty was rendered in the Franklin circuit court, Judge Herndon temporarily presiding.

Instantly the crowd in the chamber burst into wild cheering. But Colson standing pale and silent near his lawyer, moved not a muscle. Of all the men the big room he was perhaps the most composed. To the end he remained a man of iron.

The last act of Kentucky's greatest tragedies was enacted after a day of fervid oratory and impassioned argument. The lawyers for the commonwealth on Friday practically abandoned all hope of securing a conviction for murder on the account of the killing of Lieutenant Ebelbert Scott in the lobby of the Capital Hotel. All their efforts were for getting a verdict for manslaughter. They fought a gallant uphill fight, but the evidence was all or nearly all on the other side.

The acquittal of Colson for the killing of Scott amounts to the dropping of all prosecution against him. He will not be arraigned on the indictment charging him with the murder of Luther Demaree, of Shelbyville. He left Sunday for Middlesboro, where his aged mother lies ill.

Our Absent-Minded Nation And "Our Absent Heroes."

"The verses raise a serious question and give expression to what is really a reproach to American people. Many thousands of dollars have been contributed in this country for the widows and orphans of 'Tommy Atkins' in England. It was sympathetic and generous, but what of the dependents of our own brave soldiers, who gave their lives in defense of the flag in the Philippines? Probably two-thirds of the men who fell in the campaigns against the insurgents, or died of disease since the military occupation began, left at home dear ones to whose support they contributed—if not a wife and children, aged parents, perhaps in many cases. What has been done for them? The casualty lists reported from Manila, are fortunately, not as long as they used to be, but they still come with regularity, and every name represents sorrow and loss to some American family. But no one seems to inquire.

Our Greatest Specialist.

For 20 years Dr. J. Newton Hathaway has so successfully treated chronic diseases that he is acknowledged to day to stand at the head of his profession in this line. His exclusive method of treatment for Vericocce and Stricture without the aid of knife or cautery cures in 90 per cent. of all cases. In the treatment of Loss of Vital Forces, Nervous Disorders, Kidney and Urinary Complaints, Paralysis, Blood Poisoning, Rheumatism, Catarrh and Diseases peculiar to women, he is especially successful. Dr. Hathaway's practice is more than double that of any other specialist. Cases pronounced hopeless by other physicians, readily yield to his treatment. Write him to day fully about your case. He makes no charge for consultation or advice either at his office or by mail. Address, J. Newton Hathaway, M. D., 309 Church St., Nashville, Tenn.

In 1892 the people voted for a change. In the four years subsequent they found themselves without a cent of change. This year they are content with the change they have in their pockets and won't throw away the substance for the shadow again, even to please the Democratic party of pessimism.—Richmond Pantagraph.

THE NEW WOMAN.

The Female Argonauts of the Nineteenth Century Strike Hartford.

Our usually quiet little town was honored by a descent of the female chivalry of the River Green on last Sunday. They had heard of our many recent improvements and so, unlike their down-trodden sisters of the medieval ages, they went "en masse" to the river and by their formidable numbers, boarded, and, after a hard-to-hand conflict, captured a boat and all its crew.

The crew having been brought into a state of subjection, they turned the prow of their acquisition into the placid waters of our quiet little stream. The slimy denizens of the waters sprang into the wave with sudden fear and the brave old oaks and gnarled beeches rejoiced that the good old times of the war-whoop and scalp halloo had come again. The hawks wheeled screaming into the distance, and the wise old owls waked up in their holes in the trees and poking out their heads said "who, who!"

But the brave crew swept on like Columbus' men, though, like them, they looked to see huge sea monsters rise up to devour them. But they cared not for they were on the Pathway of Knowledge.

Our good citizens fearing that the Shawanews were come again—because they could hear a fearful clamor and see innumerable feathers sticking up as the boat came round the curve,—seized their rusty firelocks and went to the river's brink. But when they saw this bright array of female warriors, all but a few took to their heels, while the waves of the river raged furiously like Homer's Simois, in sympathy with the beleaguered Trojans. But even these took to flight when a forlorn hope of twenty made a dash at the bank—all but poor John McIntyre who was paralyzed by fear.

One of them said, "O, girls, we've landed in the Zoological Garden; see what a fine specimen!" Forthwith they nailed him and went uptown to do a little sight-seeing.

The first thing that they saw was the telephone wires. They didn't understand it until one brilliant young scientist suggested that it might be a wire fence to keep the cow from jumping over the moon. Which logical explanation satisfied all.

The next thing they saw was one of our new street lamps. They made the unwilling John confess that it was one of the places of deposit of the Bank of Hartford and that the reason it was hung up so high on wires, was to keep the cash from being stolen.

The next thing was one of our store signs. They thought they were dead-falls to catch hogs with.

In the meantime the good citizens having a friendship for John, deliberated how they could deliver him. They finally caught a mouse and turned it loose by the court house.

"Then shrieked the timid and stood still the brave" in that gallant forlorn hope, but only for an instant for with a wild cry of fright, they turned loose of John and sprinted to their warship. Like the old Argonauts, they turned their adventurous bark homeward, but, alas, without their Golden Fleece—the specimen.
